I just found out about Sandys passing today. I knew Sandy for many years in San Jose. She and I used to take walks at night with her poodles. She loved each pup like it was her baby. Rosie was her apricot toy poodle who would make Sandy laugh because she would skip when she walked. Sandy was a great seamstress and made several of us t-shirts that had her creative art work on it. Sandy was a strong woman and very independent and also loved dancing. She seemed to enjoy the simple things in life. I'm sorry for your loss. I'm sorry that I didn't know of her passing until now. I send my deepest condolences to her family and friends. Deanna J. Williams- San Jose, CA.

I recently learned of Sandy's passing and was very saddened by the news. I met her many years ago while doing volunteer work for the March of Dimes. She invited me to go to Jamaica with her on a trip sponsored by her employment (at the time of the Rodney King riots as we were watching it on the news at our hotel). We had a fabulous time. She also invited me as her 'date' to her high school reunion in the San Diego area. We had two yard sales at her house. I was impressed how she 'marketed' her jewelry, placing matching sets together in little baggies. She was an accomplished upholsterer and seamstress. She made me two fabulous shirts with beading on them, again impressing me. I remember driving to a Kaiser facility in Milpitas and was not sure how to get there. As I approached a light, I saw a cab in the right lane and I started to ask the cabbie for directions. I was so surprised to see it was Sandy driving the cab! She had been laid off from her accounting job and had a mortgage to pay so she did what she had to do. I admired her for that. My sincere condolences to Sandy's family. She was a wonderful, talented woman. Barbara Sweeney Solmonson - San Jose, Ca/Surprise, AZ
